Ripening Fruit. The Baltimore fruit dealers think they have discovered a method of ripening ruit which is somewhat better than nature's. Upon this point there will probably be a difference of opinion among consumers, but the process is an interesting one. The fruit is hung in a room which is made perfectly dark and as nearly airtight as possible. The room then heated by means of pipes to the stoper temperature, and the room is be added. ept closed except when opened for ina far have been with bananas, and it only are required to ripen them.

The Supply of Tannin. Those who fear for the destruction o our forests resulting from the demand for comlock bark will take comfort in the recessful attempts to obtain tannin from ther sources. It has been estimated that me cord of hemlock bark produces one arrel of good tannin extract, worth $20. is now found one cord of alder will aduce the same amount; and one ton wort fern gives the best tannin, $22 oth, besides a value of $7.50 in an invior kind. There is said to be considtable activity in Hancock county, Me .. a the new industy of extracting tannin m sweet fern.

If a cord of hemlock bark contains $20, a cord of oak bark has at least a quarter nothing is more common in large districts of Tennessee than the waste of oak trees and timber, bark and all.
